

Biography

Deborah A. Trombly
Controller

New Bedford Economic Development Council, Inc.

Deborah has been the Controller for the New Bedford Economic Development Council since 2008.

Prior to joining the NBEDC, Ms. Trombly was the responsible for opening a Payroll Processing and Tax Preparation company and held various positions at NStar including Sr. Financial Analyst, Sr. Accountant, Contract Administrator and Fixed Assets and Accounts Payable Administrator. She left NStar when their central location moved from Wareham, Massachusetts.

Ms. Trombly earned her A.S. degree from Bryant University, B.S. degree in Accounting from the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth in 1986 and her M.B.A. at Suffolk University in 1988. She also subsequently pursued her M.F. at Bentley College but left to raise her children. She currently serves as the President Elect of the Greater New Bedford Business Women's Association.

Ms. Trombly is married with three children and resides in Freetown, Massachusetts.